MINE PAY ROLL HITS $190,000 MONTHLY

Mine Development -- Production Of Gold Employs 1494 Workers

Each report on mining development, compiled once a month, reveals more men employed in the Nevada City-Grass Valley mines, and more mines being operated. Last month, April 21, the Nugget reported 1303 men employed, in the report given below, the total, a month later 1494 men. The payroll on April 21 aggregated $176,000, while today it is $190,000.

Many of the producing mines have increased their working forces while other properties are proceeding with increased forces engaged in development work.

As compared with the Nugget's March report there has been an increase in men employed and payroll of approximately 15 percent. It is to be doubted whether any other county, or any other industry, in California, can show this increase in activity.

Nevada City and Grass Valley have made more rapid strides toward recovery from the depression than any two cities in the entire state. The reason for this condition is observed—gold. The precious metal is greatly in demand. On account of this demand, capital for new development, has become interested. The result is that old mines are being re-opened, new mines are being created and men are working here. However, there are plenty of available men for every job, but these two cities do not have the acute suffering that has been experienced by other communities on account of the unemployment situation of the country.

With the summer season and settled weather conditions approaching, many new properties are to be opened up. There is a demand for houses here by new people coming in. Several new houses and cabins are being built, now that the snow and cold weather seems to be a thing of the past.

$3,000,000 PRODUCED

Two mines in the Nevada City-Grass Valley area produced $3,000,000 in gold during 1932. This indicates that last year this county did not suffer acutely from the depression. The Empire-Star mine produced $2,005,000 and the Idaho-Maryland $979,420.

The road out to Washington is now open and the Spanish mine which is soon to put on a large crew of men ,has been busy getting their lumber in so that construction of the tramway from the mine, can be fininshed.

MURCHIE EMPLOYING MANY

The Murchie mine, three miles from Nevada City, employs the largest number of men of any mine, near the city. Their payroll contains the names of more than 215 men, all of whom make good wages.

The Murchie is improving with depth.

Arthur W. Hoge, president of the Lava Cap, is enthusiastic with the showings made from samples. Assays show ore that runs better than $10 a ton. The original owners of this property were mainly interested in high grade ore. With modern methods and machinery this mine can be worked at a profit. The work of sinking and straightening the shaft from the 400-foot level to the 800-foot level is being rapidly pushed.

During the past few weeks, many small properties have put crews of men to work. Some of these properties give work to but two or three men, but there are many of them in this section and every time a man is put to work, it is cause for rejoicing, as it adds impetus to the upward trend now in progress.

Fred Joubert, operating at Depot Hill gravel property, has had a crew of ten men working. Water has been a problem at this property, but that is now being overcome, as the snow is fast melting and filling the ditches.

SIX AT RELIEF HILL

O. S. Clark, operating Relief Hill mine, has been using a crew of six men, getting ready for hydraulic operations. Lou Paine, of Nevada City, is in charge of one of the monitors, that is tearing down high banks of gravel, some of which are 80 feet in height. The operation at this mine was held up on account of the very heavy snows and later on on account of lack of water. The melting snow filled the ditches and solved the water problem.

Herbert Paine is working a crew of 12 men at Howland Flat, washing gravel. The operations at this place were delayed on account of heavy snow, as there was a depth of six feet of ice incrusted snow a few weeks ago. At that time men had to resort to snow shoes in order to get in to the mine.

ACTIVITY EXPECTED

Some activity is shortly expected by the Verdi Nevada Mining Company, who took over the Olympus group of claims near Gold Mound. E. Meecham is the president of the company. McBride & Co. of Los Angeles are the owners of this property.

Carrol A. Spicer, who has been operateing the Colombo mine, where he has employed a crew of about 5 men, has leased the Bigelow 10-stamp mill. The mill has a capacity of 30 tons a day. Ore will be hauled to the Bigelow property for milling.

PHOENIX SINKING

The Phoenix mine, southwest of Grass Valley, which gives employment to several Nevada City miners, has a force of ten men at present. The mine is electrically equipped and work of sinking the shaft 100 feet deeper, is progressing rapidly .

A . C. Brockington, superintendent of the Bullion mine, reports the water from this mine is being pumped at the rate of 90 feet a day. Two 500 gallons per minute pumps have been installed. Timber which has been submerged under the water for some time and which is now exposed, seems to be in good condition. The shaft at the Bullion mine is 1500 feet deep.

After many weeks of delay on account of snow and ice, the Scotts Flat gravel mine, now has a crew of five men employed at ground sluicing. Porter Bros., of San Francisco, are the owners of this mine and J. W. Scott is the manager.

CANADA HILL OPERATIONS

West Mines Corporation, who are re-conditioning the Canada Hill mine two miles from Nevada City, are making rapid progress. This property is located a short distance south of the Murchie mine and the vein is similar to that of the Murchie. Clearing and timbering of the shaft will shortly reach the drain tunnel at a depth of 250 feet. Electric power has been brought to the property for pumping operations. A large pump will be installed and dewatering of the shaft will be at a rapid pace. As soon as the property is unwatered the mine will be developed.

SHAMROCK GOLD MINE TUNNELS FOR BACKS

The Shamrock Gold Mining Company, of which Whitman Symmes is president, has acquired a group of mining claims, three miles north of the little town of Forrest, in Sierra county.

A tunnel is to be driven to cut the vein at sufficient depth to provide 260 feet of backs.

DRIVER, ALLEGED RECKLESS, TRIED

Conflicting evidence caused Justice of the Peace W. L. Mobley yesterday to take the case of the people versus Irving Sowden, charged with reckless driving, under advisement. Robert Tharp, appeared for the people and Sowden was his own attorney.

Sowden was arrested on complaint of Mrs. Frank Peters, who charged that he had collided with her April 21 about 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon on the Nevada City Grass Valley highway.

Dan Treanor, who was riding in the rear of a truck, testified that Mrs. Peters had attempted to pass the truck in which he was riding, on the curve, and that after she had done this, and was nearly abreast the truck she met Sowden in his car, traveling about 40 miles an hour with the resultant collision. The right side of Mrs. Peters car was badly damaged, she was injured and her young son was cut with fying glass.

Some testimony was introduced to show that Sowden had been drinking but none that he was drunk. One witness, Mrs. Buffington, stated that he passed her at a high rate of speed since she was traveling at 45 miles an hour herself.

Walter Butz, in general confirmed the testimony of Treanor, and another corroborative witness was Mr. Edminster, who witnessed the accident from an adjacent field.

The fact that Mrs. Peters car received the impact of Sowdens car on the right side, seemed to indicate that after pulling over to the left to pass the truck, on discovering Sowden's car approaching directly in front of her she had turned still more to the left in an effort to avoid the collision by driving into the ditch on her left.

CITY BUYS SPRAYER TO FIGHT TREE PESTS

At a special meeting of the city council last evening, the purchase of a Bean & Co., sprayer for spraying trees infested with pests was ordered. The sprayer is one which the pest control division of the state department of agriculture is selling in order to get a larger and motorized machine for heavier duty. Dick Goyne, of the Miner's Foundary, made a special report on this sprayer, and declared it in excellent condition.

The cost of the machine is $450 and the city will charge a rate per tree for spraying. The worst tree pest in this vicinity is the elm beetle. This insect after killing off the elms moves into other varieties of trees and destroys them.

The spray machine will be managed by Byron Janes, graduate of the University of California, who made a speciality of this branch of entomolgy while there.

Several applications for licenses to sell beer were received and discussed by the council.

PINT OF LIQUOR AND HEAD-ON COLLISION

In a headon automobile collision at the Hills Flat corner, between cars operated by E. R. Hauck of Live Oak, commercial traveler for a shoe firm, and Robert Atkinson of Grass Valley, who had as a passenger, George Ryan, of Nevada City, sent Hauck to the Jones Memorial hospital for treatment. Ryan received a severe bump on his head a cut on his nose and a leg injury and Atkinson, a cut on the head.

Inspector Frank Quinn took charge of the accident. The Grass Valley man was cited to appear in the California Patrol office Thursday morning.

Pedestrians declared Atkinson was traveling at a high rate of speed. A pint of liquor was found in the Atkinson car, by Inspector Quinn.

Judge Seawell Chosen Head Of Native Sons

The Grand Parlor of the Native Sons, convened in Memorial Hall in Grass Valley, yesterday, elected the grand officers for the ensuing year, selected Ukiah as the site for the 1934 Grand Parlor ,and adjourned.

Emmett Seawell ,Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, was elected grand president. Othere officers that were chosen were: Seth Millington of Colusa, junior grand past president; Charles A. Koenig of San Francisco, first grand vice president; Harmon D. Skillin, San Francisco, second grand vice president; Hartley Russell, San Francisco third grand vice president; John T. Regan, San Francisco, grand secretary; J. A. Corrotto, San Jose, grand treasurer; G. A. M. Hurst, Berkeley, grand marshall; L. D. Reuter, San Pedro, grand inside sentinel; Walter P. Rothenbush, San Francisco, grand outside sentinel; Eldred Meyer, Santa Monica, Harry S. Lyon, Placerville, Thomas M. Foley, San Francisco, Jesse H. Miller, San Francisco, John W. Burnett, San Jose, and Edwin Sehnarr, Oakland, grand trustees.

Following his election to be grand president, Justice Seawell appointed Chester Cannon of Sacramento, grand historian, and Leslie Maloche of San Bernardino, grand organist.

Nevada City and Grass Valley were visited this week by one of the most notable assemblages of the state of California, when the Grand Parlor of Native Sons of the Golden West, opend their 56th convention in Grass Valley Monday and remained in session until yesterday afternoon.

There were three hundred and fifty delegates and officers present, many of whom were accompanied by their wives and other members of their families. The delegates were from every section of the state. The sessions were opened Monday at Veterans Memorial Hall in Grass Valley. Grand President Seth Millington opened the ceremonies and presided over all of the sessions.

The high point of entertainment was reached Wednesday, when the delegates and visitors were taken on a tour to Downieville. Governor Rolph was a visitor to the Grand Parlor Wednesday ,when 169 automobiles carried the delegates and honored guests over the old trail of the Forty-Niners to the historic city of Downieville. Here they received a rousing old fashioned western welcome. Luncheon was served in Downieville and the annual grand banquet was served at Memorial Hall in Grass Valley in the evening.

Justice Emmett Seawell, Schenk, Langdon, Preston, Thompson and Curtis, of the Supreme Court of California, were honored guests at the banquet Wednesday evening. Governor Rolph returned to Sacramento before the evening festivities began. Addresses were made by Justice Ira Thompson, Justice Curtis, Mayor Brock, of Grass Valley, George L. Jones, Lewis F. Byington, Grand President Millington and Grand Vice President Emmett Seawell.

The visitors made a stop at the Lone Grave, which had been freshly decorated for the occasion. The trip seemed to be a great joy to the ladies as the cars traversed the beautiful winding highway through the pines.

After the tour Laurel Parlor No. 6, served a delightful luncheon to 100 of the ladies. Following the luncheon the ladies adjourned to the lodge room, where the Nevada City high school band, under the direction of Mr. Sweeney rendered a program of great merit. Nevada City's high school band was the recipeint of many compliments from the visiting ladies. Other delightful numbers were a piano solo by Mrs. Wales, of Grass Valley and vocal selections by Mrs. Henry Dolagnes, of San Francisco. Community singing with piano accompanienment by Mrs. Wales and Mr. Sweeney, added greatly to the program. The "Star Spangled Banner" was the closing number, rendered by the band.

WEST POINT HONORS DOWNIEVILLE STUDENT

Mr. and Mrs. Will Carter of Downieville, recently received a letter from their son, Clark Carter, who is attending Annapolis Military Academy.

He stated that Congressman Englebright was appointed inspector of the academy by the government and had spent a week there. Young Carter who ranked high as a student, was selected by Congressman Englebright to go to Annapolis and he was given the honor of being his aide while at the academy.

He leaves the first of June on a two months voyage with other students and will visit one or two foreign countries before returning.

Clark Carter has been attending the military academy for three years and has only one more year to go until he graduates.

Clark Carter is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Carter and a nephew of Sheriff George R. Carter of Nevada City.

TO START WORK ON SECOND CAMP

Forest Supervisors R. L. P. Bigelow yesterday announced that another Civilians Conservative Camp will be started tomorrow, this time in Bear Valley, on the Tahoe-Ukiah highway. Like the North Bloomfield camp, it will be built to accommodate 200 men.

Twenty five C. C. C. recruits from San Francisco's concentration camp at the Presidio are expected to arrive today. To these will be added 25 men experienced in carpentry and forestry work to assist in the camp building. The latter group is enrolled from the cities throughout the Tahoe National Forest area. They will receive the same wages as the other, $30 per month and found.

The lumber contract has been awarded the Nevada County Lumber Company, and calls for approximately 100,000 feet for immediate delivery.

NEV. LUMBER CO. RECEIVES TRAIN LOAD OF LUMBER

Last Tuesday a special train load of lumber rolled into Nevada City over the Narrow Gauge and it be-The train was a freight train load of lumber, about 70,000 feet in all. It was the first time in sixteen years that a special train has been run over the Narow Gauge and it begins to look as though the corner has at last been passed—at least in this section of the country. This order of 70,000 feet of lumber was consigned to the Nevada Lumber Company of Nevada City. It forms part of the 100,000 feet to be used for buildings of the C. C. C. Camp at North Bloomfield.

Manager Fred Conner had received instructions from the government concerning the shipment and he began speedy deliveries of the lumber as soon as he was aware that the shipment was headed for Colfax.

The shipment was loaded at the mills at Hobart City Monday afternoon and rushed to Colfax. A special crew of the Narrow Gauge met the shipment at Colfax and made the transfer, for its journey on into Nevada City. The shipment was trucked from this city to Bloomfield Tuesday and delivered to the site of the camp before midnight Tuesday.

THE EDITORIAL CIRCUIT RIDER

President Roosevelt's personally delivered accounting of his first two months' efforts to solve the nation's problems evidently has the approval of California editors.

Even those who disagree with some portions of this program admit the President's latest radio address will go far toward reassuring business interests of the country.

"The President, in plain, straightforward language," said the Salinas Index-Journal, "told of the problems that had confronted the country during this period, the steps taken to solve them, and moves in contemplation. Whether one agrees or not with those policies the recital was impressive. As he briefly told the story of momentous legislation already enacted and more which is in preparation it was difficult to realize he had been in office only two months. The plans for the restoration of better times are so staggering in their magnitude and so revolutionary that there are few who really understand them."

In the opinion of the Orange Daily News, "the President's statement indicates that such currency inflation as is permitted will be rigidly controlled. That is the only safe basis for a step which, in the opinion of a great many sound business leaders, is a necessary preliminary for the recovery of business. The release of the country's credit resources, it has come to be acknowledged by these leaders, awaits a stabilation of commodity prices at a materially higher level than at present. An uncontrolled rise in price levels, however, and the uncertainty attending it, would be as disastrous to business as is the present situation."

"The President also stressed the generally recognized fact that we cannot expect a return to normal times without the other nations sharing prosperiy wih us," remarks the Stockton Record. "His words should serve to focus the attention and interests of the American people on the importance of the forthcoming conference abroad."

"Whether or not one agrees with the Roosevelt program," said the El Centro Imperial Valley Press. "It is to be conceded that the President gave a good account of his two months of service, and indicated he has the courage of his convictions by stating definitely what he proposes to do in the months to come. He gave no opportunity for doubt, his address being straightforward and to the point."

"Beyond the undoubted political gain from such a 'personal appearance,' the reason for the President's radio message is not discernible now. Perhaps it was to fix a precedent for further addresses, at a time when appeals to the people might be powerful in swinging a recalcitrant congress into line, or in centering the nation's attention on the expected machinations of the 'elder statesmen' of America and Europe at the forthcoming economic conference."

PERSONALITY

"Buildings have personality. Some like cetrain temples of the Greeks, by their immense dignity speak to the mind almost as music speaks and change anxiety to trust."

He builded a home on a quiet street,
He planted a garden trim and neat,
A shaded pathway led to the door,
And bars of sunlight fell on the floor;
The windows glowed when the nights were dim
And spoke to the heart like an evening hymn.

The noise of the world seemed far away
And peace dwelt there thru the livelong day;
The doorway smiled as in welcome there
And offered a refuge from carking care
The whole house seemed as we passed along
Like the tender notes of a happy song.

And with grateful heart the builder knew
That the work he had done was fine and true.
With infinite patience and earnest care
He had builded a home that was like a prayer,
And it stands by the roadside all day long.
And speaks to the heart like a beautiful song.

COUNTIES MEET BOND PAYMENTS

SACRAMENTO, May 18—(UP)—While a majority of California's 58 counties not only have kept abreast of their bond interest payments and bond redemption but also anticipate they will be able to meet their bond obligations when they next fall due, here and there scattered throughout the state are a number of counties which have been unable to do so.

This was disclosed by an exhaustive inquiry conducted by the state controller's office and including practically every county of the state.

The survey revealed 13 counties are behind to a greater or lesser degree in their interest and redemption while 19 specifically informed the controller they will not be able to meet all of their bond obligations in the immediate future.

Nevada county has met all its bond obligations to date and will meet them in the future, according to present indications.

With few exceptions, the larger counties are able to meet their bond problems. Financial trouble appeared to be centered in the agricultural districts.

Several counties indicated the 60-day tax moratorium was embarrassing them in meeting these obligations and may compel them to register warrants. Eighteen counties are already registering warrants although the total amount, $464,673.-64 is not serious so far.

General financial condition of the counties throughout the state has aroused apprehension of legislators. The figures disclosed by the controller's survey had their part in convincing the legislature that real property tax relief was an imperative necessity.

GRASS VALLEY

YUBA RIVER CANYON COUNTRY

By J. L. WOLFE

A native of France, Jules Rosiere, penetrated the Sierra Nevadas to a point called Boston Ravine. That was in 1849. A group of placer miners who called themselves the Boston Company had settled at that place a few months before others had followed and the settlement appealed to Rosiere as a good business location. So he built the first trading post at Boston Ravine which also served the nearby settlements of Ohio Flat, Idaho Island, Ravine and Woodpecker Ravine. But these men were not the first whites to reach the spot where Grass Valley now stands—in 1848 David Stump, a man named Berry and another whose name has been forgotten, came down from Oregon and in their search for gold reached a spot on Wolf Creek close to where the Idaho Maryland mines are today. They found gold in large quantities as well as some heavy nuggets. But after three weeks the first indications of winter sent them flying back to the valley. 1850 however, brought quite an influx of gold seekers who worked all the ravines in the vicinity. But Nevada City with its Deer Creek four miles to the east of Grass Valley and Rough and Ready with its rich gravel mines four miles to the West—left Grass Valley sadly at a disadvantage. Then one October morning in 1850, Geo. McKnight came across what is now known as Gold Hill and stubbed his dusty boot so hard that he chipped off a piece of rock. His probable flow of language was cut when, upon glancing down, he found the rock shot through with gold. Of course this discovery created vast excitement, some people even feared the source of all gold had been discovered, and gold would be so debased as to become of no value. Today a granite base, topped by a huge piece of gold quartz rock, marks the spot where McKnight made his eventful discovery—upon which is founded the entire hard rock mining industry of California. More than four million dollars were produced by the Gold Hill mine during the following 15 years.

In the same year George D. Roberts located the Ophir vein, the necelus around which the great Empire mine is built. For 83 years this gold mine has been producing without a stop and its interesting buildings are today a powerful attraction for tourists.

Along in 1854 a glamorous woman bought a cottage at Mill and Walsh streets. A friend of the elder Dumas and a favorite of King Ludwig of Bavaria—she had wielded a tremendous influenee in political affairs, being credited among other things, with saving Switzerland from Italian conquest. Created the Countess of Landsfield by the Bavarian King. The Grass Valley miners called her the "Limerick Countess." Although a two story front was later added, the original cottage is still plainly discernable, as is also the wine cellar that enlivened the frequent parties of Lola Montez.

While Lola was packing to leave—a baby was born less than a block away. Several years later the freckled boy scarcely gave promise of the man who was to be; whose definition of philosphy is given today in Webster's new International Dictionary—"Philosophy has its origin and value in an attempt to give a reasonable account of our personal attitude towards the more serious business of life." During the spring of 1933 the Harvard Club of San Francisco erected and dedicated a bronze plaque inside the Carnegie library inscribed 1865 Josiah Royce 1916—Born in Grass Valley; alumnus of the University of California, renowned Harvard teacher and eminent American philosopher. Presented by the Harvard Club of San Francisco, 1933."

Grass Valley, with its mines, has, like a giant vertex, drawn men and women from every nation on earth—and, like a spinning wheel, has scattered others to the Seven Seas and the shores they wash. In many parts of the world. "Grass Valley" is a byword—though "California" may scarce be mentioned. To thousands of mining men from Africa's Transvaal Rand to the Ballarat fields of Australia—"Home" means Grass Valley!

PIONEER LOCOMOTIVE TO HAVE PLACE OF HONOR

Standing proudly among the giant modern locomotives, the historic "C. P. Huntington," tiny pioneer engine of the Southern Pacific, will occupy a position of honor at the Century of Progress exposition which opens in Chicago May 27.

Glistening in new paint and bright polish, the diminutive locomotive was loaded on a flat car at Sacramento this week and is now on its way to the World's Fair. It will be exhibited in the Travel and Transport Building as evidence of the remarkable development made in western railroad motive power since the "iron horse" displaced the "covered wagon" and Pony Express many decades ago.

Named in honor of the first vice president of the Southern Pacific who later became one of the nation's most prominent railroad executives, the historic locomotive was shipped around Cape Horn in a sailing vessel and made its maided trip at Sacramento in April, 1864. It is 32 feet long, hardly the length of the tender of the modern locomotives that are thirty-five times more powerful, it was stated by officials of the railroad.

STRONG WIND

CORNING—(UP)—A freak windstorm carried the 6-year-old son of Mrs. Violet Innis several feet and deposited him in a ditch. A coaster wagon the boy was playing with was hurled several hundred yards.

This relief is proposed to be raised by diversion of sales tax revenue, estimated at $75,000,000 for the biennium, to pay fixed school charges the counties are now bearing.

Real property tax relief is, however, entirely contingent upon approval by the people of the tax revision program which will be submitted to the people June 27.

U. S. AUTO TAX TOTAL ABOVE BILLION MARK

Motorists in the United States have paid $1,099,293,844 in motor vehicle taxes during 1932, which is equivalent to an average per vehicle tax of $45.25, according to a statistical report reaching the California State Automobile Association.

On a total valuation on motor vehicle property of $4,505,625,600, taxes were said to equal an annual levy of 24.4 per cent on the average value of each vehicle.

This would mean that over the estimated seven-year life period of an automobile, the average car owner would pay in taxes 170.8 per cent of the average value of his car, says the report.

During 1930, 1931 and 1932 total registration of motor vehicles declined 2,269,280, or nine per cent. In the same period, however, the average tax per vehicle increased $7.-56, or 20 per cent; the tax per cent of valuation increased 6.1 per cent, and the total tax over the average life of the vehicle increased 42.7 per cent.

RELIANCE GRAVEL CLAIM IS LEASED

Mrs. Kitty Kimball, president and part owner of the Reliance Placer and Quartz ground north east of Alleghany, came in from Oakland Saturday to attend to business connected with the property.

She recently leased the gravel to a couple of men and they now have two others assisting them. There was considerable interest from the first on the gravel ground as they found 25 colors in the first pan.

The quartz has not yet been leased.

PLANE VS. BIKE

LOS ANGELES—(UP) — Bicycle riding proved too much for Miss Adoree Neville, airplane stunt flier. She is confined to her home as the result of an accident with a bicycle. "I'll stick to airplanes in the future" she said.

There were about 15 Veterans of Foreign Was at the Pine Grove cemetery last Sunday, who answered the call of the Post to assist in cleaning up the neglected graves.

The Post is again asking for all that can get out to come next Sunday and help put the cemetery in fine shape for Decoration Day.

NEW ERA DAWNS SAYS BETTLES

By GORDON M. BETTLES
Mining Engineer. (Article appearing in Mining and Industrial News.)

A new economic era is dawning and in this era the great State of California can readily take the lead and stage an advance unparalled even in its own glorious past. The President of the United States is taking certain decisive steps to end depression. This means the encouraging of employment and the restoration of purchasing power. It means the re-establishment of foreign trade facilities on a basis fairly competive with foreign nations. It is greatly significant that our financial structure, our national currency, is the real heart of the entire situation. The ultimate success of the President's plan will depend on the handling of the currency and his ideas on this subject have been already intimated.

There is an embargo on gold which is rapidly depreciating our dollar to the levl of foreign currencies. But, President Roosevelt has declared for a sound currency and has promised to shun printing press inflation. The demand for a broader, more flexible currency on a sound basis can apparently only be satisfied by the revaluation of gold on a basis probably close to the level held for months past by important foreign currencies.

SILVER DOLLARS NEEDED

The use of silver as a subsidiary basic currency appears advisable. This will probably be accomplished by treating silver as a controlled commodity and not by establishing it at a definitely fixed price in relation to gold.

The effect will be immediate and intense activity in silver mining. The revaluation of gold will give it a definite nad fixed higher value and therein lies California's real opportunity.

HAS TREMENDOUS RESOURCES

During the era of industrial expansion the relative value of gold was low. Its output in California steadily declined. However, there are ample statistics to prove that the gold resources of the State are tremendous. It is interesting to note that the Captains of Industry who were so enthusiastic in encouraging the public to speculate in Industrial and Financial stocks beyond the point of all reason have for the most part not been wise enough to foresee the inevitable trend to gold and silver mining and to use their dearly gained experience in the proper guiding of this endeavor. But perhaps the public will do better without such guidance.

GOLD IN NEW ROLE

The new status of gold is already strongly reflected in public opinion. It is a recognized fact that properly managed exploitation of California mines is proving profitable and it is clean, new wealth that is supplying the profit. The industry should prove collectively profitable and the element of speculation in individual gold mining efforts will certainly be no greater than that indicated in recent years in other types of industry or indeed in our financial and banking institutions. Gold mining is California's present bid for pre-eminence. More than any other state it has undeveloped resources in gold. The exploitation of these resources should be the natural desire of its citizens. The new wealth produced is indestructible and is a permanent addition to the wealth of the State if kept at home.

HANDSOME PROFITS FROM MINES

The gold mining industry at present furnishes the obvious answer to depression and unemployment. Millions of money and tens of thousands of men can be quickly put at work in a gainful occupation. The effect will be immediate and widespread increase in purchasing power to the definite betterment of all other lines of endeavor. Present economic factors favor gold to the point where properly managed exploitation of California mines will pay handsome profits. The industry will continue to reflect these benefits for decades to come and the newly created wealth will aid California to additional great forward strides in its establishment as the heart of the Pacific Empire.

OVERSHADOWS 49 DAYS

Our press makes occasional reference to "the days of old, the days of gold, the days of '49." As a matter of fact there never were days of gold comparable to the present and the miracle of '49 is due to be repeated on avaster scale. But it is possible that a large portion of the benefits to accrue will be enjoyed by capital supplied from distant centers unless the business interests of California awaken to the fact that the answer to their troubles is to be found in their own foothills in the Gold Belt Counties of California.

THE PAY STREAK

By H. M. L.

The election of last Monday, in which the voters of the city decided to retain the swimming pool fund for the purpose for which it was originally voted, indicates that Nevada City refuses to feel "depressed."

It was fairly determined that the majority (a change of fifteen votes to the negative would have resulted in a two thirds majority) is ready to meet the costs of the water system repairs by whatever method the city finds best to employ.

* * *

What is now needed is that there should be reasonably prompt action in two directions. One to proceed at once with such water main repairs and replacements as are immediately imperative, and there should be no doubt that these repairs are imparative, and in the other, steps taken toward the construction of a swimming pool, which the majority has now voted for, three times in the last seven years.

* * *

In this connection the Nugget respectfully makes this suggestion: That the Chamber of Commerce and the Woman's Civic Improvement club acting together appoint a committee to make a report to the city council in which shall be embodied the best thought obtainable with respect to the location of the swimming pool and subsequent ti its building, a program for its economical management.

This committee should be large enough to embrace representatives of the groups which have taken an interest in the subject, and small enough to act readily. It would entail study of other swimming pools, a study of their management, and a careful survey of available sites in this community. Those who accepted membership in the committee should be prepared to devote considerable time to it.

* * *

We think such a committee should be a conciliating force in the community. We feel that all interests should now get together and put this project through in the best possible spirit with a view to putting Nevada City in step with other communities, and with the purpose of building up this city's reputation as a summer recreation spot, as well as a center for winter sports.

* * *

We feel that reasonably prompt action should be taken in using the swimming pool fund for the purpose for which it was voted seven years ago, because it has proved to be an obstacle to real progress. If there were no other reason then to remove this obstacle to community unity and progress it would seem as if that were reason enough to spend the money for a swimming pool within a reasonable time.

As it stands the city is receiving 2 percent interest on the money on deposit and is paying 5 percent interest on the bonds ,a loss of 3 percent annually to the city, which on $10,000 amounts to $300 a year.

LUMBER TALKS

Peace and Prosperity

The mining men came thronging
To see what they could see;
And that we helped them visualize
Is evident to me.
The stamps went thumping up and down
In every mighty mill;
And what those miners saw and heard
They'll be remembering still.

The native sons and daughters
Surged in from far and near,
And had a simply gorgeous time
While they were lingering here;
They visited our Ski Club,
They motored to San Juan,
There were no empty moments
From nightfall unto dawn.

And now our Uncle Sammy
Camps here in our domains,
We hear the sounds of rumbling trucks,
The shrieks of special trains;
Avaunt now, old Depression,
The parting gives us glee,
We're hearing Franklin's slogan,—
"Peace and Prosperity!"

Weather vs. Lumber

Rain continues to come down—lumber is apt to go up—in fact, the lumber mills are stimulating their prices.

Uncle Sam is taking advantage of present low prices and has placed with our Company a large order of lumber to be used in Nevada County, North Bloomfield, for the construction of building one of his Camps.

Anticipating increased activity in building, we are adding to our stocks and are fully prepared to furnish anyone lumber and building materials at present low prices; a phone call over 29 will get us immediately in touch with you in connection with any of your building plans.

FIRST CATTLE COME FOR MOUNTAIN GRAZING

CAMPTONVILLE, May 18—The first cattle to arrive in the mountains for the summer grazing came in Wednesday from the Dobbins section, going into the vicinity of the Hour House. This is the latest in the history of the section for cattle to start coming, as in other years, they being well on the grazing lands by May 1st. The prolonged wintry and cold weather has prevented their earlier coming this year. The forests contain considerable feed at this time, with prospects of a good grazing season. The cattle Wednesday were checked in by Forest Ranger Frank W. Megger's office. Others are expected to arrive shortly.

TAX LOAD CUT IS PROMISED IN RILEY MEASURE

SACRAMENTO, May 18—(UP)—A definite reduction of the tax load on real property is claimed by proponents of the Riley tax plan which has been passed by the legislature and will be submitted to the people at a special election in June.

Under terms of the measure, all operative property, such as railroads and gas and electric companies, will be returned to local tax rolls. This property, valued at $1,339,035,802 in recent years has been taxed for state purposes only.

According to a compilation by the state board of equalization the plan will permit the return of utility property valued at $2,698,748 to the local tax rolls of Nevada county.

As a result, it was explained, this will give the county a broader tax base and the rate may be lowered.

This particular provision, however, will not be effective until January, 1935.

In the meantime it is planned that the state will levy a 2 per cent retail sales tax to raise funds to relieve counties of the task of matching state funds for the support of elementary and high schools. This feature is expected to provide immediate relief for the local taxpayer.

When the utility property is transferred to the local tax rolls, the state will lose an income between $30,000,000 and $40,000,000 annually. The plan calls for a general ad valorem tax to make up this difference.

In order to make sure that the burden on real property will not be too great, the proposed constitutional amendment specifically provides that not more than 25 per cent of the cost of state government may be defrayed by revenue from this source.

An additional safeguard against excessive taxes is provided in a clause limiting increases of governmental expenditures to not more than 5 per cent annually.

VANDEGRIFT IS VICTOR IN ROW

SACRAMENTO, May 8—(UP.) Smiling, urbane and self-assured, Rolland Vandergrift, director of finance, has apparently survived one of the most prolonged and bitter attacks any state official has undergone in California's history.

Vandergrift has managed to retain his job in the face of almost insuperable odds. The condemnation of the Inman investigating committee, the antagonism of elective officials and even the animosity of his own colleagues on the Rolph cabinet have failed to shake Governor Rolph's confidence in his short and portly finance director.

The governor, in his 10,000 word answer to the Inman investigating committee's report, emphatically stated he had absolute faith in the courage, integrity and good intentions of Vandergrift. He admitted the director might have committed mistakes in judgment, but that nothing the committee unearthed indicated Vandergrift was dishonest or unprincipled.

Vandergrift has demonstrated a peculiar capacity of drawing fire from powerful sectors and making enemies during the past six months. The investigating committee preferred inferential charges against him far more serious than those lodged against Dr. J. M. Toner, director of institutions, who is scheduled to be "transferred."

The director's state bond deals for the state were condemned; broad hints of graft were given out by the committee in connection with the leasing of the state annex building; and his connection and activities in connection with the purchase of the Ventura hospital site were severely criticized. Particularly, did the committee wonder why he purchased a ranch adjacent to the Ventura hospital site.

Vandergrift is cordially disliked by virtually every member of the Rolph official family. This unpopularity was manifest at a recent secret meeting of Rolph with his cabinet and constitutional officers. The officials were verbally tearing Vandergrift limb from limb when the director walked into the center of the discussion. One official promptly walked up to the director and called him a name which calls for a fight, unless accompanied by a smile. There was no smiles; nor was there a fight. Vandergrift waited for this official to tell his story, listened to the charges of others, answered them all suavely and urbanely, and walked out.

The amazing feature of the situation is why the governor, usually so responsive to the views of the cabinet, insists that his finance director remain in office even at the risk of executive harmony.

LOOKING UP

By S. G. RUBINOW

(U. P. Special Correspondent.)

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 15—(U.P.) Right now, two countries are providing concrete examples of good and bad dictatorship.

In the United States, under the sincere, helpful, really inspired dictatorship of President Roosevelt, the country is making gigantic strides back toward prosperity.

In Germany, under the despotic, dark-century, ignorant, and selfish dictatorship of Hitler, the country is sinking back into the oblivion of the dark ages.

Strange contrast these two examples afford, in this, the noon of the twentieth century.

United States, under the flag of practical, common-sense economics is crushing traditional bad customs so as to give her people real relief.

Germany, under the flag of impractical, nonsensical fifteenth century crusadership, in the name of idiotic "nationalism," is creating a world-wide reaction of hatred and contempt for Prussianism.

How a country like Germany, once the envy of all countries because of her intellect, scholarship, efficiency and progress, could totter so far in such a short period of time, is difficult to understand.

Dictatorships are not a new thing. History records that on one occasion, among the Romans, Cincinnatus was asked to leave his plow and take the job of running the country, as a dictator, for a period of six months. History records he did a good job.

The big difference between Roosevelt and Hitler is that one wants to serve and the other wants to control.

Roosevelt is actuated by a new type of idealism in politics, the desire to accomplish maximum good for maximum numbers.

Hitler is actuated by an old type of conquest in politics, the desire to ruthlessly rule or ruin for selfish purposes.

Predictions of the outcome in the United States and in Germany are easy. Roosevelt will go down in history as one of the leading progressives and liberals of western civilization.

Hitler will last only as long as he can keep his grip on militarism intact; then, he will flop as any other ignorant demagogue has flopped.

After all, as Dr. Monroe E. Deutsch, vice-president and provost of the University of California says, "desire to serve state and commonwealth should be above all other qualifications for public office."

Otherwise, he continues, the people will find the ship of state steered by helmsmen both selfish and blind.

American Heroines

By LOUISE M. COMSTOCK

Elizabeth Porter

A TALL spire in the Union cemetery, Kansas City, boasts that city's romantic link with the distant alarums of the Revolutionary war, fought on the remote eastern rim of the continent while Kansas City was a still unknown spot in the vast wilderness west of the Mississippi.

The country was new when Samuel Porter with his young bride Elizabeth immigrated from Ireland to make their home in Richmond, Va. Tennessee was still unexplored wilderness filled with dangers, beckoning to ambitious young people desirous of securing land of their own. So, presently, we find the Porters with their retinue of slaves migrating again, and setting up a home near Franklin, Tenn.

There was a war going on, they knew, but the rich, newly cleared lands of their homestead were at that time "farthest west" and many miles of wilderness and irregular communication made Bunker Hill and Brandywine seem safely remote. But the long arm of the British through their hired Indian allies reached even that far. And one day, when the men folks were far away in the forests, a whooping band of red warriors descended upon the little settlement at Franklin, took prisoner all the women, including Mrs. Porter, and set off with them through the wilderness.

Through endless miles of forest they marched the small band. The hardships of the journey were extreme, and it lasted for months. There were rivers to ford, dreary nights of discomfort in improvised camping grounds, and the constant menace of their silent but watchful red captors. Just why these women were not killed at the beginning and scalped according to the Indian custom, we do not know, though it has been suggested British officers prevented that.

At length the party reached Fort Niagara, a British stronghold in Canada, and there remained through the long winter. Not until the next spring were they returned to the Colonists and their homes.

Mrs. Porter's third migration was in 1829, when, a widow, she came to Kansas with her son, the Reverend James Porter, a circuit rider.

Every California highway leads to a Bank of America branch

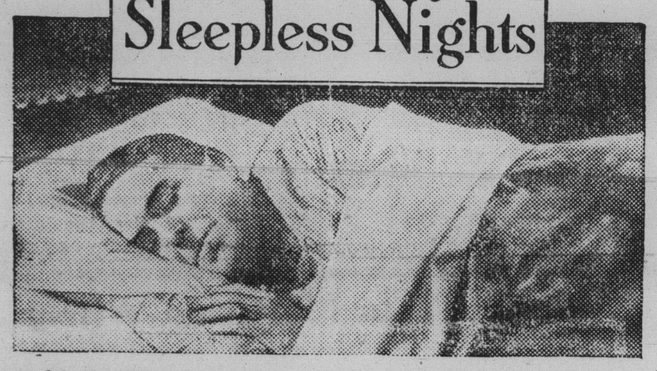

The "everywhere-ness" of Bank of America in California has a powerful appeal to its more than a million and a half depositors. The practical and psychological value of having their bank "travel" with them wherever they go throughout the length and breadth of this far flung state is obvious. This "everywhere-ness" also means widely distributed resources — a vitally important factor in any banking structure.

Bile Stagnates In Sluggish Livers and Makes Us Sick

Unless your liver furnishes plenty of fresh bile every day your food does not digest properly—it just ferments and decays in the bowels—constipation, gas, sour stomach, headaches, nervousness, etc., are the result.

Sargon Soft Mass Pills relieve the cause of this condition. They are not like any medicine you have ever taken (write for free literature describing their action and effects). Don't be misled. Calomel, salts, mineral waters, laxative pills, etc., have no effect on the liver. Sargon Soft Mass Pills contain the only two substances which will actually cause a sluggish liver to increase its production of bile.

PARDON PLEA IS 286 PAGES LONG

SACRAMENTO, May 15—(UP)—Governor Rolph has received a pardon application that promises to command "lengthy" consideration.

The document, one of the longest ever filed with the governor's office here, contains 286 pages, including 39 full-page cartoons, and was submitted in behalf of Milford B. Martin, sentenced to San Quentin prison in 1930, following conviction on a bribery charge.

Text of the application seeks freedom for the convict on the ground he was innocent of the charge and had been "railroaded" to prison.

TRUCK TAX TO HELP BALANCE STATE BUDGET

SACRAMENTO, May 15—(UP)—Every California motorist and truck owner, irrespective of whether he owns other property or not, will probably be called upon to dig down into his jeans to help wipe out the state's anticipated deficit of approximately $50,000,000.

An integral part of the budget balancing program of the "committee of 14"—the program that will probably be adopted in mid-summer, if anything is done at all—is the additional one dollar surcharge on the automobile registration fee.

The additional revenue gained from this new tax would be diverted to the general fund and would total for the next two years, approximately $4,000,000.

Nevada county's share of this additional emergency tax would be $3,018 according to the latest figures of the number of automobiles, trucks and trailers in this county.

The new tax would, in every sense be an emergency measure. It would automatically terminate two years hence.

Action on the "committee of 14's" budget balancing and real property relief program will not be taken until the mid-summer session. Legislative leaders felt it wise to await the decision of the people to whom will be submitted in late June a tax revision program. This includes repeal of the so-called "amendment number 1"—in fact, it is amendment number 30 in the constitution—which would mean abandonment of the state's traditional separation of sources taxation system. It would also include elimination of the mandatory requirements of counties to raise $30 annually for each elementary school pupil and $60 for each high school student. A third vital feature would be limitation of governmental cost increase in California to five per cent annually—the state limitation would be five per cent biennially—for the next two years. After that period the legislature could limit government outlay at its own discretion

Real property relief would be afforded by passing of a two per cent consumers sales tax and diverting the anticipated biennial revenue therefrom, estimated at $75,000,000, to payment of the counties' fixed school charges. These charges are now borne by real property.

CONTROL PLAN TO AID FARMERS

By MELVIN LORD

SACRAMENTO, May 15—(UP)—Farmers and dairymen of Nevada county probably soon will have an opportunity to market their products under a controlled production plan.

Under terms of a measure already passed by the assembly and approved by the senate agricultural committee, establishment of a pro-rate agricultural commission appeared to be assured.

Looked upon by proponents as the only means by which farmers may achieve a fair return on their products, the bill would provide for a state commission of nine members comprising four producers, two "handlers" of agricultural products and three representatives of the general public.

To establish a district wherein production of any one product would be limited to a profitable amount, a petition signed by two-thirds of the producers in the area and representatives of two-thirds of the production would be presented to the commission. Providing the petition met certain qualifications, pro-rate certificates would be issued.

Unlike present co-operative marketing projects, the new pro-rata plan provides that once the project is launched, dissenting producers are required to maintain their production within the prescribed limits or be guilty of a misdemeanor.

While the system proposed in the measure would limit the production each grower has the right to market his share in any manner he finds desirable.

In explaining the bill, proponents pointed out that the whole proposal is permissive, only giving the growers and milk producers the right to apply to the commission for authority to institute a control plan.

While the measure has the endorsement of most farm organizations, it has been opposed by the State Grange because the commission is given too great authority to charge fees to finance organization of pro-rata areas.

Kate Walker

"KEEP the light burning, Kate." These were her husband's dying words. And for 33 years tiny Kate Walker, who stood but 4 feet 10 inches with her shoes on, remained faithful to her trust, tending the giant beacon on Robbins Reef in New York bay. During these years veteran boatmen estimate that Kate Walker saved as many as 75 lives.

The young Kate had come to this country from Germany, and opened a boarding house at Sandy Hook. Here her excellent cooking made a very favorable impression on Capt. Jacob Walker, keeper of the Sandy Hook lighthouse. They were married in 1882. Shortly afterwards Captain Walker was transferred to the lighthouse on Robbins Reef. Four years later he became ill of pneumonia. Kate not only nursed her husband, but tended for him the huge light that was his trust. Upon his death, she was officially appointed keeper at Robbins Reef by President Benjamin Harrison.

There were two small children at the lighthouse in those days. Every morning the young mother rowed them across the bay to school on Staten island. Every evening she called for them. She became an excellent oarswoman and distinguished herself time and again by the courage with which she braved high seas to launch her small boat and row out to the rescue of people who were in grave danger. Not once during her thirty-odd years of guardianship did the light on Robbins Reef fail.
